Title: Right middle finger first digit caught-

What the *#$$? Apollo Family member was moving a 4" x 10' length of steel tube stock when he dropped it. His right middle finger was caught-between the stock and the dunnage. Family member suffered a contusion to the right middle finger without damage to the nail. X-Ray proved negative. Family Member was released to full duty without restrictions and returned to work upon arrival at the shop. Labeled as Near Miss.	Did we get that on film? No Pictures.
Lady Luck highlights of what went right Apollo Family Member: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Was wearing gloves.• Was not seriously injured. X-Ray proved negative.• Was released to full duty without restrictions and returned to work upon arrival at the shop.• Followed the proper protocol for an incident.	The Oops! Apollo Family Member: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Was working at a fast pace, haste in the workplace.• Had a lack of attention to detail.• Forgot to use fundamental tips on material handling.
Would of, Could of, Should of The Apollo Family Member: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Should have reread the PTP and paid attention to the hazards listed.• Should have taken more time to perform the task. Family members who make deliveries to job sites are under constant pressure to hurry. In hind sight, we lost four (4) hours of his time and four (4) hours of the safety manager's time to seek medical attention. We should have taken 30 seconds more to complete the task safely.
